

Badi Bua Ji

The Play

Set in the 1960's, this play moves from comic relief to comic relief...! The relief, however, one shall realize, is from the rather serious determination and steadfast passion that a fairly large crowd of young theatre enthusiasts nurtures in its attempt to stage a play that is meant to open in two days' time. Their dream of doing well is hindered by an aged matron who also happens to be the aunt of the heroine of the play. Theatre or no theatre, acting or no acting, lies or no lies, this generation or that generation – you shall join these dilemmatic crossroads with the characters of the play to partake in a roller coaster ride of love, unity, traditions and passion for the stage. And yes...they finally staged the play successfully!

Director's Note

Can a language have what has come to be called 'purity'? Is accent a part of one's identity or does it exist outside an individual's personality, therefore demanding avoidance, removal, extermination? Is language necessary for communication, to build one's identity? Our body carries its culture with it – a fact that no one can escape. I wanted to incorporate our multifarious cultural codes entwining and entangling with each other within the context of the play. Dealing with this concern seemed exciting and through the process a Garbha Nataka i.e. a play within a play, could generate. You shall find, like in our lives, that many events take place simultaneously throughout the play. This simultaneity is what I see as an important characteristic emerging within my performance-making process. The structure of the play, and the structure of the space-design for the play, both carry strong threads of simultaneity. Do not be disturbed by it! One does not get to witness everything happening around one's life! Maybe, one does not need to. Let's be as realistic as possible! So... Lights, Sound, Make-Up, Costume ... Action...!
