...and the show begins. The curtain goes up on the first of two shows of Tanvir's 'On a Voyage of Discovery' at the National Centre for the Performing Arts. The show is a musical drama in two acts. The first act is set in the 19th century, when the British East India Company was at the height of its power. The second act is set in the 20th century, during the Indian independence movement. The show is a mix of music, drama, and comedy, with a focus on the relationship between the British and Indian cultures. The cast includes some of the most talented actors in the country, including Tanvir himself, who is known for his unique style of acting and writing. The show is a must-see for anyone who loves theatre and music. It's a true voyage of discovery, both for the audience and the performers.
