

Galileo Deserve More by Manohar Khushalani

A Feisty show in Punjabi by Manohar Khushalani

Remembering Moliere to the Viewers by Manohar Khushalani

A review by Alka Raghuvanshi of Dario Fo's Can't Pay Wont Pay Directed by Manohar Khushalani

This is a clip of a theatre review published on 1st January 1990 in Times of India by the well known Critic and writer Alka Raghuvanshi. The review is of Dario Fo's 'Can't Pay Wont Pay' Directed by Manohar Khushalani for Theatre Union. This play was part of a festival on Women sponsored by Trade Fair Authority of India and performed at Manzar Theatre in Pragati Maidan.

Myriad facets of women

The multifarious activities of women in the world today are a subject of interest to all. In the past, women were confined to the domestic sphere, but now they are active in every field of human endeavor. They are the backbone of the nation, the pillars of the home, and the leaders of the world. Their contributions are vast and varied, ranging from the simple to the sublime. In the past, women were seen as passive and dependent, but now they are active and independent. They are the driving force behind many of the great achievements of the world. Their strength and courage are a source of inspiration to all. In the past, women were seen as weak and fragile, but now they are strong and resilient. They are the true heroes of the world, the ones who have made the difference between a world of darkness and a world of light. Their love and sacrifice are the greatest gifts that God has ever given to humanity. In the past, women were seen as the property of men, but now they are the equals of men. They have fought hard for their rights and they have won. They are no longer the silent majority, they are the voice of the world. Their voices are heard in every corner of the globe. They are the change that we need, the hope that we have. They are the future, they are the world, they are everything.

EDUCATION

The education of women has advanced rapidly in the past few decades. Women are now attending universities and colleges in large numbers. They are receiving the same quality of education as men. This has led to a significant increase in the number of women who are able to contribute to the world. Education has empowered women and given them the tools they need to succeed. It has opened up new opportunities for them and allowed them to reach their full potential. Women are now leading in many fields, from science to the arts. Their education has given them the confidence and knowledge to take on the world. They are no longer content to be followers, they are leaders. They are the ones who are shaping the future of the world. Their education is the key to their success and the key to the success of the world. We must continue to support the education of women and ensure that they have the same opportunities as men. Only then can we truly have a world of peace and progress.

These women are a source of inspiration to all. They have shown us what is possible when women are given the same opportunities as men. They have shown us that women are not just the future, they are the present. They are the ones who are making the world a better place. We must learn from their example and strive to be like them. We must embrace their strengths and their weaknesses. We must support them and love them. We must be like them. We must be women. We must be the world. We must be everything.

The history of women in the world is a story of struggle and triumph. Women have fought for their rights and they have won. They have shown us that women are not just the future, they are the present. They are the ones who are making the world a better place. We must learn from their example and strive to be like them. We must embrace their strengths and their weaknesses. We must support them and love them. We must be like them. We must be women. We must be the world. We must be everything.

These women are a source of inspiration to all. They have shown us what is possible when women are given the same opportunities as men. They have shown us that women are not just the future, they are the present. They are the ones who are making the world a better place. We must learn from their example and strive to be like them. We must embrace their strengths and their weaknesses. We must support them and love them. We must be like them. We must be women. We must be the world. We must be everything.