By C. S. Thapar

When three men shared a common passion, the result was a production that was not only a success but also a triumph. The three men were Manohar Khushalani, Mico Bhanu Mishra, and C. S. Thapar. They were united by a common goal: to produce a play that would be both a success and a triumph. The result was a production that was not only a success but also a triumph.

Public image gets a dash to Delhi or Chit

The play was a success because it was a triumph. The three men were united by a common goal: to produce a play that would be both a success and a triumph. The result was a production that was not only a success but also a triumph.
