

American Indians rekindle India abroad by Manohar Khushalani

DECEMBER 11, 1988 / WEDNESDAY / DECEMBER 11, 1988

X-MAS COUNTDOWN

American Indians rekindle India abroad

With Indian ancestry being increasingly valued by U.S. and abroad by Indians, would students for the "Indians" festival should see no longer sleeping ideologically about their forefathers. They are being to with them. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

EXCLUSIVE COOKING
Manohar Khushalani

made up of San Francisco Bay Area residents, this annual gathering originally formed by students at Stanford University and the University of California at Berkeley.

"It's a gift of Indian history and culture," says Khushalani. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

members. "The characters on stage are in a sense, drawn from the audience." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

"It's a gift of Indian history and culture," says Khushalani. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

members. "The characters on stage are in a sense, drawn from the audience." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

"It's a gift of Indian history and culture," says Khushalani. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

members. "The characters on stage are in a sense, drawn from the audience." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

"It's a gift of Indian history and culture," says Khushalani. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

members. "The characters on stage are in a sense, drawn from the audience." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

"It's a gift of Indian history and culture," says Khushalani. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

members. "The characters on stage are in a sense, drawn from the audience." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."

"It's a gift of Indian history and culture," says Khushalani. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture." The group is a mix of Indian and non-Indian students. "It's a gift of Indian history and culture."