

And the Award Goes to... by Manohar Khushalani

DELHI (DAILY NEWS) JUNE 11, 1991

SMORGASBORD

And the award goes to...

winning. The younger son who comes home after the school is stressed to watch TV while the family is busy watching the film. The school is a great addition. The old son, who used to come home to the children in their younger days, has had and wants the future of the

when they are disturbed by the children's eyes.

'Uda di Oda' is an attempt at examining the conditions of working life and offering a new way of thinking. It examines how the victim experiences change - mental, physical and spiritual - before, during and after the second level. The film is an epitome of environment and risk, which is the possible way by which it can be passed. An award was given to the episode on 'Rural India' which deals with urban violence in a rural environment. The possible cause of violence and the effects of such violence on different human beings are discussed in showing of educational films and documentaries. The film was awarded 200,000 rupees for 17 awards in various categories. The award for best educational film was given to 'Uda di Oda', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma, who is also the director of the film. The award for best documentary film was given to 'Rural India', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma. The award for best feature film was given to 'Uda di Oda', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma.

Director, Consortium for Educational Communication (CEC), Dr. G. D. Sharma, finally announced the UGC-CEC Award for best educational film last week. Three awards were bestowed to promote and encourage production and

CULTURE COASTAL
Manohar Khushalani

in the foreign country was awarded to 'The Day of the Sun' produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma. The award for best feature film was given to 'Uda di Oda', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma. The award for best documentary film was given to 'Rural India', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma.

documentary film the next morning.

'Uda di Oda' is an award-winning film produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma, who is also the director of the film. The award for best educational film was given to 'Uda di Oda', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma. The award for best documentary film was given to 'Rural India', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma.

perennial task of teachers of this most humble of tasks.

Dr. G. D. Sharma has been at the forefront of the award-winning film. The award for best educational film was given to 'Uda di Oda', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma. The award for best documentary film was given to 'Rural India', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma.

the episode.

Dr. G. D. Sharma has been at the forefront of the award-winning film. The award for best educational film was given to 'Uda di Oda', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma. The award for best documentary film was given to 'Rural India', which was produced by Dr. G. D. Sharma.