

Four NSDs would make Karanth's dreams come True by Manohar Khushalani

VARIETY 10

Four NSDs would make Karanth's dreams come true

Renowned Kannada scholar and critic P. Vasudeva, at present working in Director's Office at Bangalore, was in town recently. Karanth's is an eminent scholar, teacher and cultural propagator of advanced Kannada started by the Kannada government in 1970. It has three divisions working under a special administrative committee. A teacher training centre called Kannada Pravega Vidyalaya, Mysore, and a documentation and research centre called IAS Pravega is attached to it.

When he was with the Government of Karnataka, he was the Director of the Kannada Department, Bangalore. He was also the Director of the Kannada Department, Bangalore. He was also the Director of the Kannada Department, Bangalore.

Kannada Pravega Vidyalaya, Mysore, and IAS Pravega, Bangalore, are the two main centres of the Kannada Pravega Vidyalaya. They are working towards the development of Kannada literature and culture.

The Government of Karnataka has decided to set up four National Sanshodhan Mandalas (NSDs) in Karnataka. The NSDs will be set up in Mysore, Bangalore, Chikmagalur, and Shivamogga. The NSDs will be responsible for the research and publication of Kannada literature and culture.

The Government of Karnataka has decided to set up four National Sanshodhan Mandalas (NSDs) in Karnataka. The NSDs will be set up in Mysore, Bangalore, Chikmagalur, and Shivamogga. The NSDs will be responsible for the research and publication of Kannada literature and culture.

P. Vasudeva
Director's Office at Bangalore

The NSDs will be responsible for the research and publication of Kannada literature and culture. They will be working towards the development of Kannada literature and culture.