

Sejuti Bagchi's Play: Neelkanth Pakshi Ki Khonj Main

Director: Sejuti Bagchi

Group: NSD Student Diploma Production, New Delhi

Language: Hindi

Duration: 1 hr

The Play

In Bengal, Neelkanth bird is believed to be Shiva's friend who delivers the news of Durga's returning after Durga Puja. Atin Bandyopadhyay's novel Neelkantho Pakhir Khonje tells that this messenger of homecoming is lost to everybody. No character in the story finds refuge in the end.

This play has been structured by editing and extending the source novel. It is composed and presented in an alternative space, and the set and hand-props have deliberately been kept real so that the rawness of the narrative becomes an intense experience for the audience. The writing style of the novel deals with continuous painting and erasing of images which shows the immensely beautiful nature of Bengal and the gruesomeness lying under it. The play also proceeds through a thread of building and breaking of live images. It is a venture to address the politics of generosity and how insecurity leads to a false idea of a nation.

Director's Note

When we study history in schools, we are taught to remember the political events by dates. Hence, from childhood we are made to assume that such things happen suddenly, and some immediate reason is behind all sorts of political mishaps. But the way a pressure-cooker is heated long before it whistles, the problems within a society gradually rise. We only register the impact when it bursts. Nobody tries to put out the fire beneath the pressure cooker. We struggle to avoid the boiling point and keep our next generation indifferent about the fire beneath them. A disparate society is like having a tea-party on top of a volcano and dreaming that it will never erupt. What is the point of nation-building if we don't address the socio-economic disparities? Can a nation provide dignity and freedom to every citizen? Are we building nations and losing homes?
